Dr. Ali Tehrani: Master Sculptor, Artist and Surgeon

In less than a year, Dr. Ali Tehrani, founder of High Desert Plastic Surgery, has quickly established a reputation as a master sculptor, artist and surgeon in the High Desert. His compassionate patient care and impeccable surgical skills have led patients throughout Southern California and beyond to seek out his services. With this increase in patient demand, Dr. Tehrani has recently opened a second office in prestigious Newport Beach, allowing him to provide unparalleled care to the patients requesting his services.

Dr. Tehrani's patient-centered philosophies, coupled with his surgical talent and artistic sensibility, have given him the most recent honors of being selected by Best of LA TV and KCAL 9 as the 2010 Best Plastic Surgeon in Newport Beach. With over seventy plastic surgeons within the Newport Beach area, he was awarded this coveted designation, which allows him to provide the identical cutting edge services and quality of care to residents of the High Desert. With Dr. Tehrani's presence, quality patient care in plastic and reconstructive surgery is now in the High Desert.

In keeping with his focus on top notch service and patient centered philosophies, Dr. Tehrani meticulously listens to his patients' aesthetic goals, while also making a complete connection with his patients – body, mind and spirit. "My total connection mind-body approach to plastic surgery means that I care for my patients both physically and emotionally." In addition, each patient has a dedicated team that provides personalized care throughout the entire pre- and post-surgical experience, allowing patients to feel at ease and pampered. "My patients spend a lot of time, not just with me, but also with my staff, so it's imperative that we provide a team approach. This provides each patient with the confidence in knowing that they have a whole team dedicated to their needs whether they are undergoing a surgical or in office procedure."

His comprehensive practice offers a full spectrum of body contouring and facial rejuvenation procedures providing a luxurious one stop shop for his patients. Blending an array of options from minimally invasive SlimLipo TM laser assisted liposuction, brow lifts and face lifts along with Botox and injectable fillers such as Juvederm and Prevelle, Dr. Tehrani is able to deliver natural looking results with minimal downtime. "Without erasing my patients' defining features I am able to provide visibly rejuvenated, not surgically enhanced, results. My goal is to achieve a perpetual, timeless beauty that reflects the essence of my patients and how young they feel."

In addition to being an accomplished plastic surgeon, Dr. Tehrani performs a variety of reconstructive surgeries, offering breast cancer patients immediate breast reconstruction following a mastectomy. Allowing his patients to realize the possibility of a cancer-free life, as well as normalcy of form and function is a technique for which Dr. Tehrani has become well renowned. Also, specializing in hand surgery and facial trauma, reconstruction patients in the High Desert are extremely happy to find one surgeon who is broadly trained and confident in addressing all their needs from aesthetic to reconstruction. "I make every effort to help my patients make the most of their newfound feelings of confidence."

As a philanthropist, while expressing his compassion and dedication to his patients, Dr. Tehrani is active in the fight against breast cancer, supporting the Susan G. Komen foundation. Additionally, his primary commitment is to provide medical care to those in need; he is an integral part of a medical team that will travel to Kenya. In Africa, he will operate on men, women and children who would otherwise have little access to medical care and no access to specialized surgeries.

Dr. Tehrani keeps up-to-date on trends and the latest research through his involvement in professional associations. He is a member of the American Medical Association, American College of Osteopathic Surgeons, American Academy of Cosmetic Surgeons, California Medical Association and American Osteopathic Association.

become increasingly knowledgeable and sophisticated about surgical, aesthetic and reconstructive procedures.” With today’s technology, prospective patients have information on procedures at their finger tips through the internet, magazines, television and social media. “Patients are very well versed on the latest and greatest treatments, and they have come to expect and demand more from their doctors.”

Looking toward the future, Dr. Tehrani is excited to continue offering residents of the High Desert the latest procedures. This includes Oxygen Infused Therapy, the healing enhancement product for the 21st Century. Recently added to his practice Oxygen Infused Therapy accelerates the healing process for his post operative patients while promoting hydration. Additionally, this in-office non-invasive treatment is identical to what celebrities are receiving to tighten, smooth and firm their skin. “With the continued enhancements in technology, I believe we are just grazing the surface on what we can offer our patients. This allows me to continue to transform my practice and provide the newest cutting edge treatments and procedures.”
